

Harry Garlick

2010–2018

Hi I am Harry I studied A-Level French, English Language and Music whilst at Tudor Grange Sixth Form. I then went on to study a BA in French Studies at the University of London Institute in Paris (ULIP). For the first two years of university life I stayed with a host family a stone's throw away from the Moulin Rouge. In my final year, I moved into a studio slightly closer to the university. Both ways of living had their pros and cons but really helped me settle into life abroad and truly become an adult!

Studying in Paris was truly a fantastic opportunity as I had many great experiences in the wonderful city. It allowed me to use my studies daily, whilst being able to go and visit the sites we would talk about on the course, so I could truly connect with the content and apply it in my everyday life.
