

William Morgan

2017- 2023

I studied photography, music and psychology at Tudor Grange Sixth Form along with core maths.

I am now studying Graphic Design at the University of Worcester, situated in a beautiful cathedral city, which has benefits of small class sizes allowing for quality teaching time with lecturers.

I am also a student ambassador at the university. The role of an ambassador is to go above and beyond to help out at university events including open days.

My aspirations for the future are to become a successful graphic designer competing with other great visual artists.
