

James Patrick

2016 - 2023

Hi I'm James and I am now studying at Loughborough University.

I spent my two years at Tudor Grange Sixth Form studying biology A-Level, Psychology A-Level and Sport and Exercise Science BTEC. I decided to go to university to delve deeper into sport psychology which caught my interest during my BTEC course, to meet new people from different backgrounds and to develop life skills.

Whilst at university I have enjoyed using Loughborough's first class facilities to play cricket and football, whilst also becoming a member of Loughborough's psychology society.

I aspire to have a career in sport psychology and contribute to the development of a fairly newly emerging field in psychology.
