

Jessica Hefti

2016-2023

I studied history, biology and psychology A-Levels at Tudor Grange Sixth Form, which has allowed me to go on and study Evolutionary Anthropology at the University of Liverpool.

My selected modules have allowed me to explore and study my own archaeological excavations and sites.

I was awarded the Rowlands Trust Bursary which has given me the opportunity to complete 10 days of research during the summer of 2024 and 2025. The bursary has been invaluable in helping me adapt to university life and my new surroundings, preparing me for the next two years.
